

Manitoba Bed & Breakfast Association

Information for Prospective Members

The following is the information that most prospective members request.

1. Contact your city, town, or municipality to learn of the specific restrictions that apply to your area. They can be anywhere from nothing to many; Winnipeg has the most but please note that they seem to change so be sure you are updated.
2. Contact bed and breakfast owners in the province to find out any tips they may pass on to you and to get others perspectives. If possible, visit as many as you can.
3. Check with your insurance agent for the cost of a liability clause for your proposed B&B. The Association has a group policy which is approximately $95 a year for one million dollar liability which is an option that about half our members choose. If you do not choose the group plan, you would be required to provide the association with proof of a liability plan with another agent. We have our plan through Co-Operators Insurance.
4. If you have decided to open a B&B then you will want to consider registering your name once you have chosen it. The Companies Office is a government branch that does a search of your name ($45) and once that is clear they register your name ($45) for a period of 3 years. If someone else tries to use the same name they will be contacted and will have to change their name which can be costly. For more info please phone 204-945-2500.
5. The Manitoba Bed and Breakfast Association is the only one in the province and is a cooperative with elected board members. We charge a one time joining fee of $130 to all members. Our annual fee is $225 and includes many benefits as follows:

Our web site is very well maintained and we also have our own Webmaster to help you once you are online. You can use as many pictures on your website as you wish. Once we set your site up, you will receive a password and your site becomes interactive so that you may change the information and the photos as you see fit.

All new members will receive a complimentary visit by an existing member of the association for a pre-visit. The pre-visit is an opportunity for the new member to ask questions about the inspection, membership etc. The association wants to ensure you have all the help you need for passing the formal third party inspection.

A third party inspector inspects our new members in the first year of their operation. All existing members go through an inspection every 4 years. The inspectors use our list of standards as a guideline for inspections. We refer to this as our customer assurance policy which we utilize to guarantee each person that uses the facilities of one of our members that they will be able to count on these standards

Many of our members value the interaction of the members and participate in our annual meeting which is held in the fall at a designated area... At this meeting we hold workshops and we discuss pertinent information.

We elect new board members during our AGM in the fall. You must have been a member for a minimum of one year prior to sitting on the board. During the year the board members have several meetings to deal with the incoming of new members, marketing, political action, education, website and other related issues.

We are a cooperative marketing association. We believe that we can accomplish more by pooling our resources together in order to advertise. The board makes all decisions any group advertising that we are able to and promote the group when the opportunity arises.
